Part B. CV SUMMARY.

Researcher in Philosophy of Law and “Theory of Justice and Human Rights” with two six-year research periods. My research lines in relation to the R&D project applied for are ecological justice and the rights of nature; legal feminism; justice and social rights and the new paradigms of international criminal justice. My involvement in research applied to tourism and tourist areas arose from the study of legislation on important tourist resources such as the Atrato River in Colombia, the Mar Menor, and Doñana.

Promoter of the Mar Menor Popular Legislation Initiative (ILP) aimed at recognizing the legal personality of the Mar Menor, for which I have won several awards. Promoter of the Legal Clinics of the Faculty of Law at the University of Murcia.

Director of the Chair in Human Rights and Nature, for which I have been invited to several editions of the United Nations Conference on Biodiversity (COP), the last one held in Egypt in 2022. The Chair highlights the interdisciplinary work of disciplines from the Humanities, Social Sciences and Law, and Natural Sciences: Law, Social Work, Geography, Philosophy, Education, Psychology, Sociology, Economics, Biology, Ecology, etc. The Chair also integrates non-governmental organizations such as Amnistía Internacional España and Ecologistas en Acción de la Región Murciana.

Organiser of the next "Earth Assembly" to be held in April 2023 in New York. Member of the research group E0C3-03 Social Exclusion and Inequality. Member of the Editorial Board of the journal "Status Libertatis". Member of the Human Rights Commission of the Faculty of Social Work at the University of Murcia. Coordinator of 3 projects and participating researcher in 1 scientific research project.

I have accumulated important merits in Scientific Transfer and Dissemination, among which I would like to highlight my presentations at workshops and conferences on ecological justice in the Mar Menor and its basin, the effects of climate change, national and international regulations, ecological footprint, gender equality, women as agents of environmental change, human rights, children and refugee law. I have also been invited by Associations, Groups and the United Nations Organization to give numerous National and International Conferences on the social costs of ecological degradation, environmental rights, sustainable energy transition, inequality and gender violence, the refugee crisis, the deterioration of social and ecological rights, the humanitarian emergency and development cooperation, the challenges of multicultural societies, the ecofeminist movement, citizen integration, immigration as a social reality, children's rights, peace, access to a decent life for all, access to education, access to health and education, the social and cultural rights of women and children's rights, humanitarian emergency and development cooperation, the challenges of multicultural societies, the ecofeminist movement, citizen integration, immigration as a social reality, children's rights, peace, access to housing and the gender perspective in Vienna (Austria), Buenos Aires (Argentina), Murcia (Spain) and Madrid (Spain).

My scientific-technical activity can be summarized as follows:

- a) 4 Awards and Recognition. Onda Cero Cartagena 2022 Award for the Popular Legislative Initiative (ILP) Mar Menor. Distinction for Relevant People in their Activity from the newspaper La Opinión. Al-Kazar 2021 Award for the Mar Menor. José Loustau 2022 Award for university spirit and human values which was awarded on 20 January 2023 by the Social Council of the University of Murcia.
- b) 36 book chapters published.
- c) 20 scientific articles published.
- d) 11 books published.
- e) 103 papers presented at National and International Conferences.
- f) Participant in 75 Conferences and Dissemination Activities.
- g) Reviewer of Scientific Articles in 8 law journals.

- h) A three-month International Research Stay at the prestigious University of Reading in the United Kingdom.
- i) An International Research Stay in Argentina.
