Ricercatrice post-dottorato e analista GIS, International Institute for Social History, Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences, Amsterdam
• Lavora al progetto finanziato dall'ERC/NWO "The Lives and Afterlives of Imperial Material Infrastructure" diretto dalla prof.ssa Hilde De Weerdt.
• Collabora con il team di ricerca sulla struttura e l'organizzazione dei dati; lavora autonomamente per condurre analisi geospaziali su grandi insiemi di dati di infrastrutture storiche e archeologiche (mura, strade, ponti).
• Co-sviluppatrice del database del progetto e della piattaforma geospaziale pubblica.

2018-2022

Ricercatrice post-dottorato e analista GIS, University of Amsterdam
• Ha lavorato al progetto "Healthscaping Urban Europe 1200-1500", finanziato dal ERC, diretto dal Prof. Guy Geltner.
• Ha condotto analisi geospaziali su dati archeologici e storici relativi all'igiene e alle infrastrutture della Bologna medievale ed è stata la prima autrice di un articolo premiato, basato sui risultati della ricerca svolta.
• Ha sviluppato il sito web del progetto e il WebGIS.
• Co-organizzatrice di una conferenza internazionale presso l'Università di Bologna.

Lecturer, Dipartimento di Storia Medievale, University of Amsterdam
• Ha sviluppato e insegnato in modo indipendente il corso Historical GIS: Mappatura del medievale.

2014-2018

GIS Instructor and Archeozoologia, Badia Pozzeveri, Universita di Pisa, Italia
• Ha insegnato a dottorandi e laureati come catalogare i resti archeologici e umani utilizzando tecniche GIS e digitali.
